Jeff Halper

speaking on

Israel/Palestine: Reframe the Conflict Change the Discourse!

Thursday, March 4 at 7:30 PM

Mt. Diablo Unitarian Universalist Church, 55 Eckley Lane, Walnut Creek, CA 94596,

Co-sponsored by Jewish Voice for Peace and the Middle East Study Group

Jeff Halper will speak on changing the discourse of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict by shifting from a framework that emphasizes Israeli security and a war against terrorism to one that emphasizes justice and self-determination for both Palestinians and Israelis while holding Israel accountable for ending the Occupation.

Jeff Halper is a professor of anthropology, author, lecturer, political activist, and co-founder and Coordinator of the Israeli Committee against House Demolitions (ICAHD). In 1997, Halper co-founded ICAHD to challenge and resist the Israeli policy of demolishing Palestinian homes in the occupied territories, and to organize Israelis, Palestinians and international volunteers to jointly rebuild demolished Palestinian homes. He has created a new mode of Israeli peace activity based on nonviolent direct action and civil disobedience to the Occupied Territories. Dr. Halper was nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize by the American Friends Service Committee for his work "to liberate both the Palestinian and the Israeli people from the yoke of structural violence" and "to build equality between their people by recognizing and celebrating their common humanity."

Halper is the author of several books on the Israeli-Palestinian conflict, including An Israeli in Palestine: Resisting Dispossession, Redeeming Israel (2008), and is a frequent writer and speaker about Israeli politics, focusing mainly on nonviolent strategies to solve the Israeli-Palestinian conflict.
